Course Inclusions

AHS 4      Introduction to Visual Culture M N R

Rationale: Introduction to Visual Culture offers a broad survey of visual culture and society, including the critical examination of how reality is constructed through vision and sight in contemporary culture. AHS-4 both compliments and expands upon Norco’s current Art History classes by exposing students to a wider range of visual objects --including the traditional fine arts as well as photography, advertising, film, television, and new media -- while exploring the histories, philosophies, and theories of visuality. Importantly, the curriculum for AHS-4 foregrounds inclusive topics and perspectives from women, LGBTQ+, BIPOC, and image-makers with disabilities. It also adopts a global approach to studying visual culture and society, in-keeping with new equity initiatives to decolonize Art History and deconstruct strictly “Western” or “non-Western” approaches. Adding AHS-4 to our course offerings at Norco College will greatly benefit our students by providing them with additional opportunities to acquire visual literacy skills, increase historical knowledge, develop cultural empathy, and to hone their critical thinking skills about art and society.

AHS 8      Art History of the Photographic Image M N R

Rationale: Art History of the Photographic Image has proven to be a popular course among students majoring in the Studio Arts, Art History, and across the Humanities. This course also has broad crossover appeal for students majoring in disciplines that intersect with technology and communication, as well as those seeking to fulfill their GE requirements. Importantly, the curriculum for AHS-8 foregrounds inclusive topics and perspectives from women, LGBTQ+, BIPOC, and image-makers with disabilities. It also adopts a global approach to studying visual culture and society, in-keeping with new equity initiatives to decolonize Art History and deconstruct strictly “Western” or “non-Western” approaches. Adding AHS-8 to our course offerings at Norco College will greatly benefit our students by providing them with additional opportunities to acquire visual literacy skills, increase historical knowledge, develop cultural empathy, and to hone their critical thinking skills about the global circulation of images, technologies, and ideas.

| Rationale:               | Part of RCC's mission statement includes engaging with a diverse community of learners and the Art Department would like to include in its curriculum a class that engages with the rich cultural history of Islam. The phrase "Islamic art" is an umbrella term for many visual arts created by both Muslim and non-Muslim artists within the territories occupied by people and cultures of Islam. In order to have a strong grasp of world culture and heritage of European arts, one must become familiar with the art of Islamic societies and its vast influence. At the present time, we do not have any course our class offerings that covers Islamic art in more detail than a week or two of lecture material. As our nearby university, UC Riverside, is hiring a full-time faculty member in the Art History Department who specializes in Islamic Art, we can fill a need of providing an introductory-level class that will prepare our Art students for transfer. |                                     |                                     |                                     |            |        |

| Rationale:   | This course creates an important bridge between two distinct programs at RCCD, Photo, a CTE skilled trade, and Art, an aesthetic program. It is important to explore photography development from evolving technological and technical processes, and understand why the “nature” of the medium has been subject to debate ever since its inception in 1839. Is photography document, art, or science? This courses designed to examine the use of photography for aesthetic, documentary, and “scientific” purposes, stylistic shifts in photography related to aesthetic interests, and interpretations of subject matter based on social and cultural concerns at specific moments in history. |                                     |                                     |                                     |            |        |

DEH 44 Community Dental Health Education #2

ELE 64 Programmable Logic Controllers using Allen Bradley PLCs

Rationale: We would like to only have one course in PLCs instead of MAN 64 and 67. Siemens PLC are very similar to Allen bradley and we feel that students will be able to operate both if we just have a general course in PLCs.

Rationale: Revising SLOs and adding objectives in order to match other literature revisions that were done in 2018 (this one fell through the cracks as it is not taught as often and used primarily in our Study Abroad programs).

Rationale: The major modifications in this English 1A are in response to Chancellor Oakley's and Chancellor Isaac's calls to action for curriculum to be revised to be antiracist. Changes include updating our SLOs, course content, teaching methods, and course materials. Additionally, we have updated Sample Assignments to be reflective of current best practices like strategies from the California Acceleration Project and Reading Apprenticeship.

Course Major Modifications

M N R Discussion

Action

MUS 101 Introduction to Music Technology

Rationale: This modification is to change the prerequisite from an advisory to a prerequisite, as students who were not prepared were entering into this class without notation skills, and were not successful. Also removing one SLO that has become difficult to maintain due to equipment needs - that of having sound reinforcement equipment. And updating and attaching transfer course information.

MUS 8A Music Technology I

Rationale: Minor updates of course descriptions, SAM Code, Objectives, SLOs, Course Content, Methods of Instruction, Methods of Evaluation, Sample Assignments, and Course Materials to more accurately reflect what is being taught using the latest, most up-to-date software, hardware, and courseware. Update and clarify course content to better describe TBA lab activities.

NRN 94 Nursing Clinical Devel Practicum

Rationale: Updated SLOs, added course objectives. Decreased units as this course were determined to have too many clinical hours to complete in addition to clinical time during the regular semesters and intersessions. The determination is also based upon clinical site placement availability.

ECO 4DE Introduction to Economics

Rationale: Introduction to economics is an entry-level economics course for non-majors. Many of our students are constrained by attending the college in-person by work and family-life. Learning this material should not be limited to only students who can physically attend in-person. Improving access has an important equity component for students.

BUS 77B      Project Management CAPM and PMP Exam Prep

This program aims to prepare technical professionals to understand the scope and required knowledge areas required to take and pass the CAPM or PMP certification tests, achieving certification status and improving their ability to work in the project management career field. ENG 802      Composition Skills and Support for English 1A     

Rationale: This is an experiment with additional ways to offer support for students who may struggle to pass or be intimidated by English 1A. It will offer some instruction in pre-transfer composition skills (only for students who want it; the class is NOT a course students can place into -- it is voluntary and only for students in and English 1A; it is not meant to be taken separately or alone). This contrasts with our current support of ENG 91 that is not pre-transfer level and is 2 units; ENG 800 will be the equivalent of 1 unit. It is different from ENG 885 in that while it will offer brush-up and remediation to students as needed based on ENG 1A work, it does so in a community of learners. Current plans to offer the class are with a dedicated single section of ENG 1A, like a learning community which will likely appeal mostly to students who want more traditional basic skills instruction and/or who passed ENG 91 but did not pass ENG 1A and are barred from taking ENG 91 again but still want support; and as a non-paired late-start section that students from multiple sections of ENG 1A can enroll in for support after the ENG 1A class has begun, and who want more support beyond the ENG 1A LEC and LAB.

HLS 101      Introduction to Emergency Management     

Rationale: Currently HLS-1 Introduction to Homeland Security introduces students to Homeland Security, Terrorism and Emergency Management, a significant amount of material. A major modification has been submitted to change HLS-1 to Introduction to Homeland Security and Terrorism and the Course Objectives and SLOs have been changed to focus on Homeland Security as related to law enforcement and national defense.

This new course will concentrate on all-hazard emergency management related to natural, technological and manmade hazards.

PHI 34 Philosophical Survey of Sex, Gender, and Sexuality

Rationale: With no philosophy classes that explicitly center issues of gender and sexuality, especially through the lens of their intersection with race, ethnicity, and class, this course will decolonize the canon of philosophy. Additionally, it will enhance student critical thinking through comparative analysis of underrepresented voices in philosophy and contribute to student self-development and increased student global awareness through understanding diverse subjectivities, communities, epistemologies, ethics, and politics. This course complements Philosophy 14, Philosophy 19, and Philosophy/Humanities 36 through its centering of underrepresented voices and subjectivities in philosophy, as well as courses in other disciplines that analyze gender through different methodologies. It will likewise complement not only the methods and theories of Ethnic Studies courses but also the curriculum for a potential ADT in Social Justice Studies.

Disciplines

ETS Ethnic Studies

Rationale: Due to the new requirements from the State for CSU transfer, an Ethnic Studies Discipline is required to create courses recognized as fulfilling the requirements for Area F. We can do some of it with what we already have but going forward we will need this discipline for multiple ADT creations as well as providing appropriate CID numbers for transfer.

Tech Review: Approved, 10/20/2020
Norco does currently have faculty with an Ethnic Studies FSA. Norco is expecting to begin with crosslisted courses, and Norco wanted to ensure faculty can see and originate the curriculum. Ethnic Studies originators cannot be added to Meta unless the FSA has been approved by HR. Related faculty without the FSA can be added as reviewers, but originators must have the FSA.

ETS Ethnic Studies

Rationale: Ethnic Studies has been approved as a discipline, and it is currently listed in the Course Catalogue with at least twelve courses. It has yet to be included in Curricunet/Nuventive as its own discipline. In light of new developments with AB 1460 requiring all CSU students take a 3-unit Ethnic Studies course to graduate beginning academic year 2024-25, we believe the inclusion of Ethnic Studies as a discipline would aid students by spotlighting courses that meet these requirements.

JOU Journalism

Rationale: Within the Riverside Community College District, Riverside Community College is the only college in the district that is currently offering these courses as part of a degree transfer program. Moreno Valley College students are currently taking courses and producing content for a program that does not supply a degree or certificate in Journalism. It is important, that Moreno Valley College provide a course of study in Journalism, for those students who wish to represent and be a voice for the community we serve in media. Furthermore, it is incumbent for Moreno Valley College to provide those students the opportunity as well as the adequate preparation to excel in the field of Journalism.

ART      Studio Arts

Rationale: 1. Art History "AHS" has recently been made a distinct discipline in RCCD, separate from Studio Art "ART". Therefore, the Art History courses in the Studio Art ADT must be changed to the "AHS" designation instead of the previous "ART" designation. 2. AHS-12: Asian Art History is an option in the TMC, and now that this course is offered at Norco College, it is being added to the Studio Art ADT as an additional option for students under List A.3. Students currently cannot apply both ART-40A: Figure Drawing and ART-18: Intermediate Drawing towards the completion of the Studio Arts ADT. By moving ART-18: Intermediate Drawing from the Drawing category to the Second Semester category, students will be able to count both classes towards their degree. 4. ART-27: Intermediate Painting is part of the TMC and will give more options to students in fulfilling the requirements of this degree.
