Rationale: Distance education formats, both hybrid and online, not only may increase student access and serve unmet needs, they may also give the department flexibility by overcoming room, time and environmental limitations. At the same time, they allow the instructor the opportunity to give prompt and relevant feedback as well as to expand the course materials outside of the traditional classroom to include virtual realia and other abundant authentic materials available on the web. In addition to course and instructor-provided resources, these materials are expected to enrich the cultural content of the class. Moreover, video conference class sessions ensure that the students and instructor still have in-class time that is devoted to interpersonal interaction, dynamic instruction and in-person assessment.

H ADJ 31	Cybercrime & Digital Forensics	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MOI and MOE need updates.
Rationale: A major deficiency identified across many criminal justice programs is the lack of introductory training and awareness of computer and mobile forensic equipment, investigative strategies, and legal considerations within digital investigations. The ADJ District Advisory Committee echoed the need for entry-level positions, including patrol officers, crime scene investigations, forensic investigators, or other law enforcement and criminal justice professionals, to have technical knowledge of proper evidence handling and processing of digital forensic evidence, the process and procedure of digital forensic investigations, and the proper process of protecting and ensuring evidentiary integrity within digital investigations. Many accredited undergraduate programs in criminal justice or law offer courses focusing on cybercrime and cybercrime-related investigations as well; RCC's ADJ program continues to update and improve our curriculum and offerings to best benefit the students, employers, and community. Further, recent grants have provided for the ADJ Criminalistics Learning Lab to purchase the technical equipment and supplies necessary to be able to effectively offer this course to students.

ETS 23 Race, Ethnicity, and Politics in America

Rationale: Race, Ethnicity and Politics in America affords students an understanding of social, political and economic power that centers the experiences of historically marginalized populations in the US. As Ethnic Studies develops itself as a discipline in the district, and is newly required by the state under AB1460, this course offers students opportunities to fulfill the CSU Area F GE Breadth graduation requirement.

ETS 24 Survey of Asian American Literature

Rationale: This single-semester survey of Asian American literature will complement RCC survey courses in Latino, African American, and Native American literatures. Course is ETS version of updated ENG course for cross-listing and CSU Ethnic Studies requirement.

ETS 25 Latinx Literature of the United States

Rationale: This course is the ETS version of the existing ENG course it will be cross-listed with. The ENG course was updated for the name to be more reflective of national Latinx courses and cleaned up the SLOs to make them more streamlined, in line with other literature courses, and better for assessment, we added the course objectives, we updated the course content, and we added language to the MoE section about critical literary analysis and requiring essay writing. We also added 1BH as an advisory and updated textbooks and authors. Additionally, the ENG course was updated to cross list with Ethnic Studies, and all of those changes are reflected in the new ETS course version.

ETS 27 Native American Cultures

Rationale: As Ethnic Studies develops itself as a discipline in the district, and is newly required by the state under AB1460, this course offers students opportunities to fulfill the CSU Area F GE Breadth graduation requirement.
