Subject: Memorandum of Understanding with Educational Agencies

Background: Attached for the Board’s review and consideration is a blanket Memorandum of Understanding between Riverside Community College District, as fiscal agents for the Desert Region Tech Prep Collaborative, and educational agencies who partner in the Desert Regional Tech Prep Collaborative grant. The memorandum is for the reimbursement of expenses incurred by partnering educational agencies to facilitate and direct the implementation of a 15-month coordinated regional work plan designed to provide a forum for regional collaboration, alignment of education and training efforts, and effective utilization of new and existing resources between workforce investment boards, and economic development agencies. Each Tech Prep Local Consortia within the region will provide high-quality, successful Tech Prep pathway programs and develop and implement a strategy to continually review and evaluate the partnership and work plan for continuing improvement. In order to allow partnering educational agencies to begin immediate implementation of the work plan, these memorandums would be signed by the Associate Vice Chancellor of Occupational Education. The terms of the memorandums will be April 1, 2007 through June 30, 2007. Total funds to be distributed will be $201,875.00. Funding source: Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Technical Education Act of 1998, Title II Tech Prep Regional Coordination Grant.

This blanket Memorandum of Understanding has been reviewed by Sylvia Thomas, Associate Vice Chancellor, Instruction, and Ruth Adams, Director, Contracts, Compliance and Legal Services.

Recommended Action: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees approve the blanket Memorandum of Understanding, for the period April 1, 2007 through June 30, 2008, for a total amount of $201,875.00, and authorize the Associate Vice Chancellor, Occupational Education, to sign the individual memorandums with partnering educational agencies.

CAPA staff members receive regular training from an organization specializing in crisis management and support, and comprehensive and ongoing health and safety training, including guidelines on referral and working within the limitations of their own competencies.

24-Hour Emergency Contact
CAPA provides 24-hour emergency telephone coverage for faculty and students in distress.

Communication with the Home Campus
CAPA keeps home campuses informed of the welfare of their students and faculty, and informs them of issues arising abroad.
9. PROGRAM FEES

Single-Year Agreement versus Two-Year Partnership

In keeping with the spirit of partnership in which CAPA collaborates with academic institutions, two proposals are provided here. One proposal is for a single-year agreement, the other for a two-year partnership. The advantage of the two-year partnership is that it eliminates the need to repeat the entire contract and proposal process from scratch each year, leaving the institution with more time to spend on recruitment and outreach. It also allows CAPA to lock in prices, reducing the risk of large increases and assists us in managing classroom and accommodation inventory. The savings realized by CAPA directly benefit your students. If you wish to add or remove program services in later years, we can easily do so, using the agreed-upon program fee as the base price.

NOTE: Program fees include all services, facilities and activities described in this proposal.

2.8 Additional ASP Services. In the event that Customer desires to receive ASP Services in addition to the particular services specified in the Pricing Summary, including for example, incremental server capacity and/or additional bandwidth capacity and/or higher Active User Capacity, Customer may submit a written and executed purchase order requesting such additional ASP Services. Subject to Customer's payment of all applicable fees required by Section 4, and further subject to all applicable provisions of this Agreement, including, without limitation, the Master Terms and this ASP Schedule, Blackboard agrees to make such additional ASP Services available to Customer for so long as this ASP Schedule remains in effect after acceptance of such purchase order. For the avoidance of doubt, no such purchase order shall be binding upon Blackboard unless and until Blackboard accepts such purchase order in writing and further provided that Blackboard will have no liability to Customer with respect to any purchase orders that are not accepted or for any terms contained in the purchase order other than the type of service and the payment amount.

2.9 IP Addresses. Any IP addresses assigned or allocated to Customer by Blackboard shall remain, at all times, the property of Blackboard and shall be nontransferable and Customer shall have no right to use such IP addresses upon termination of this Agreement. 3. CUSTOMER RESPONSIBILITIES.

3.1 General Usage Limitations. Customer acknowledges that use and operation of the Hosted Software by Customer and/or any Authorized End User is subject to the terms of the Software Schedule. Notwithstanding the Software Schedule, for as long as this ASP Schedule remains in effect, Customer may not install, host or operate the Hosted Software, nor may Customer or its Authorized End Users otherwise use the Hosted Software, except as installed and made available by Blackboard under this Agreement. In the event that Customer has installed the Hosted Software on any computer server(s) prior to the Schedule Effective Date (as defined below), Customer agrees promptly to remove the Hosted Software from such computer server(s). Customer agrees that it may not cause or permit any third parties to access the Hosted Software other than Authorized End Users, nor may Authorized End Users in excess of the then-current Active User Capacity access and use the Hosted Software at any time, provided that the Active User Capacity may be modified in accordance with Section 2.6. Customer shall refrain from, and shall ensure that Authorized End Users refrain from, using the ASP Services in a manner that is libelous, defamatory, obscene, infringing or illegal, or otherwise abusing the ASP Services or the resources available through the ASP Services. Customer warrants that its Authorized End Users will comply with the provisions of this ASP Schedule in all respects.

3.2 Customer Content. Customer represents and warrants that: (i) Customer owns or has sufficient rights in and to the Customer Content, including, without limitation, personal, educational and financial information contained within the Customer Content, in order to use, and permit use of, the Customer Content as contemplated in this ASP Schedule and to grant the license granted in Section 2.2; and (ii) the Customer Content does not and shall not contain any content, materials, advertising or services that infringe upon or violate any applicable law, regulation or right of a third party. Customer also acknowledges that Customer Content may be stored on servers or accessed by Blackboard’s support or ASP personnel, and thereby authorizes access and storage. Blackboard only provides access to the Hosted Software. Blackboard does not operate or control the information, services, opinions or content of the Internet. Blackboard does not monitor and shall have no liability or responsibility whatsoever for the Customer Content of any transmissions or communications transmitted via the Hosted Software. Customer agrees that it shall make no claim whatsoever against Blackboard relating to the Customer Content or content of the Internet or respecting any information, product, service or software obtained through or provided via the Internet, and Customer shall indemnify and hold Blackboard harmless from any and all claims (including claims by governmental entities seeking to impose criminal sanctions) related, directly or indirectly, to such Customer Content.

4. FEES

4.1 In consideration for provision of the ASP Services, Customer shall, during the Initial Term (as defined below), pay to Blackboard (i) an annual fee in an amount set forth in the Pricing Summary with respect to the particular ASP Services provided under this ASP Schedule, which fees shall be due and payable upon Agreement execution, and as (ii) any other fees otherwise required by this ASP Schedule (for additional services, additional bandwidth, or additional users). In the event that Customer requests additional ASP Services as contemplated in Section 2.8, applicable fees shall be due and payable from and after the month during which such additional services are first made available. All fees payable hereunder are non-refundable, non-cancelable and non-transferable.

4.2 If Customer elects to pay ASP fees monthly, then Blackboard shall charge Customer an additional 5% on the total ASP fees. Blackboard reserves the right to temporarily suspend the ASP Services if Customer’s account becomes more than sixty (60) days past due. The act of suspending ASP Services does not, in itself, constitute a termination or suspension of this Agreement nor does such suspension of Service alleviate Customer’s obligation to pay past, current, or future charges incurred hereunder. Once Customer pays in full the past due fees, Blackboard may resume services.

4.3 With respect to each Renewal Term (as defined below), if any, Customer shall pay to Blackboard the then-current fees for such ASP Services upon commencement of the Renewal Term. Except as provided above, each party will be responsible for its own expenses incurred in rendering performance under this ASP Schedule, including, without limitation, the cost of facilities, work space, computers and computer time, development tools and platforms, utilities management, personnel and supplies. Except as otherwise required by this paragraph, all amounts payable under this ASP Schedule shall be subject to applicable provisions of the Master Terms.

5. TERM

This ASP Schedule shall become effective on the Schedule Effective Date, and shall continue in effect for a period of one (1) year (the “Initial Term”), unless earlier terminated or otherwise specified in Exhibit A. Thereafter, the ASP Schedule will renew automatically upon the Renewal Date (as defined below) for successive one (1) year periods (each, a “Renewal Term”) and will be valid as long as the Customer retains its applicable Blackboard Software License(s) for ASP Services, unless either Party provides notice of its desire not to renew more than thirty (30) days prior to the end of the Initial Term or then-current Renewal Term, as applicable. Upon termination of this ASP Schedule, all licenses granted under this ASP Schedule shall immediately cease, and Customer will: (i) immediately discontinue access to and/or use of the Hosted Software under this ASP Schedule; (ii) pay to Blackboard all amounts due and payable under this ASP Schedule; and (iii) return all Documentation and related training materials to Blackboard within a reasonable time at Customer’s cost.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Schedule as of the date hereof.

Subject: Accountability Reporting for Community Colleges

Background: Presented for the Board’s information is the Accountability Reporting for Community Colleges report issued by the California Community College’s Chancellor’s Office in March 2007. The purpose of the report is to make policymakers, local college officials, and elected boards aware of the performance of the California Community College system and specific colleges in six specific areas of effort, and to inform the public about overall system performance. Included in this report is Riverside Community College District’s institutional response to the report’s findings. During the three most recent time periods under examination, RCCD was able to maintain or increase its level of performance on five of the six accountability measures.

Information Only.

Salvatore G. Rotella
Chancellor

Prepared by: Kristina Kauffman
Associate Vice Chancellor, Institutional Effectiveness
David Torres
District Dean, Institutional Research
Background: Accountability Reporting for the Community Colleges (or ARCC) is a set of performance indicators for the California Community Colleges (CCC). ARCC meets a legislative requirement that resulted from Assembly Bill 1417. As required by the Legislature, the CCC System Office will produce this report yearly and disseminate it so that every college can share it with its local board of trustees. The first report will be widely available to state government policymakers and the public at large in March 2007.

The report’s objective is to inform policymakers, local college officials, and elected boards of overall system performance and individual college performance in six specific areas of effort. (A seventh performance indicator, Improvement in ESL (English as a Second Language), will be included for evaluation in the 2008 report.) While the present report is to be considered a pilot, future versions will include all the current measures and indicators and other measures that were not usable for the present report. A team of statewide college researchers, a panel of nationally recognized researchers on college performance, a statewide technical advisory workgroup, and staff at the Chancellor’s Office created the ARCC.

Structure: The report is structured into two sections: system wide performance and individual college performance. The report’s first section covers the system’s overall performance over time for a variety of indicators. The systemwide indicators are organized into the broad categories of:

- Student progress and achievement (in the areas of)
  - degree and certificate attainment
  - transfer rates
  - vocational, occupational and workforce development
- participation rates

and pre-collegiate improvement (in the areas of)
  - basic skills
  - English as a Second Language.

Systemwide, these indicators are reported as counts (and where appropriate, as percentages) of transfer, degrees and certificates, as well as income changes as a result of occupational training, and counts and percentages of students graduating from the University of California and from the California State University who began their educational careers at community colleges.

These indicators are derived from many data sources, including public and private institutions of higher learning, the California Employment Development Department, the National Student Clearinghouse, and the Chancellor’s Office database, among others. They are not simply aggregations of all the individual college performances. Given the breadth and complexity of these measures, this body of information is not currently available for each individual college, so this data is presented for the entire California Community Colleges system.

The second section of the report is dedicated to the individual college-level indicators. For the six individual measures in the present study, each college was given data reflecting three sequential years so that changes and trends could be identified. Each set of college-level outcomes was divided into Student Progress and Achievement (with four indicators) and Pre-Collegiate Improvement (with two indicators).

College Level Indicators for Riverside Community College: In Student Progress and Achievement, for the first indicator Degree/Certificate/Transfer, data was provided that showed changes in the percentage of first-time students who showed “intent to complete”\(^1\) and who achieved any of the following outcomes within six years: transfer to a four-year college, or earned an AA/AS, or earned a certificate of at least 18 units, or achieved “Transfer Directed”\(^2\) status or achieved “Transfer Prepared”\(^3\) status. On this measure, RCC increased from 44.4% (for the cohort starting in 1998) to 46.3% (for the cohort starting in 2000). For the second indicator, Percent of Students Who Earned at Least 30 Units, the percentage of first-time RCC students who showed intent to complete and who earned at least 30 units while in the California Community College system also increased from 63.3% to 66.3%. On the third indicator, Persistence Rate, RCC increased slightly in the percentage of first-time students with a minimum of six units earned in a fall term and who returned and enrolled in the subsequent fall term anywhere in the California Community College System. This rate increased from 65.4% (for the fall 2002 cohort) to 66.3% (for the fall 2004 cohort). RCC’s Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Vocational Courses, the report’s fourth indicator, remained stable at 75% for the academic years 2003-04 through 2005-06.

In Pre-Collegiate Improvement (Basic Skills and ESL), RCC had mixed results. One measure, Improvement Rates for Credit Basic Skills Courses, rose from 49.5% to 53.6% in the three years’ of data provided. The only indicator where RCC showed a slight decline in performance was in the Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Basic Skills Courses. In 2003-04 this rate was 64.0% and in the subsequent two years, the rate dipped to 61.4%. However, these two indicators work together to highlight an interesting positive interaction. Even though the Successful Basic Skills Course Completion Rate decreased slightly, the Basic Skills Improvement Rate increased. This means that although slightly fewer students were completing the individual basic skills

\(^1\) A Transfer or Degree “Intent To Complete” is when a student attempts a degree applicable credit math or English course. A Certificate “Intent to Complete” is when a student attempts either an Advanced Occupational or Apprentice level Credit course.

\(^2\) “Transfer Directed” means a student successfully completed at least one transfer-level Math and English course.

\(^3\) “Transfer Prepared” means student successfully completed 60 UC/CSU transferable units with a grade point average of at least 2.0 in those transferable courses.
courses, a larger proportion of these students were subsequently completing higher levels of the basic skills sequence, thereby paving the way for later success in college-level courses. (As previously stated, the indicator for ESL Improvement Rate was not usable for the present report, but will be included in subsequent editions.)

The college-level report also includes indicators that include the Annual Unduplicated Headcount and Full-Time Equivalent Students and provides demographic information (age, gender and ethnicity) about RCC students for the past three academic years.

The last section of each college-specific report is dedicated to reporting college performance relative to their ranking within their peer grouping. The peer grouping is performed by the Chancellor’s Office and represents their attempt to "level the playing field". For every college-level indicator, there are external factors beyond the control of the college that affect its performance on that indicator. Colleges were grouped as “peers” based on the statistical magnitude that these external factors had on each college-level indicator. (For example, research literature indicates that transfer rates are affected by level of academic preparedness of student body, distance to nearest UC/CSU, income levels of service areas, and percentage of older students served, among other external factors. Peer colleges would have similar levels on all these factors and would be classified together.) Since the peer grouping is done statistically, these groupings do not necessarily reflect any traditional, intuitive grouping method, like size of college or geographical proximity. Also, since each college-level indicator is affected by different external factors, each college is assigned to different peer groups for each indicator. The intent of the peer groupings is to provide a more comparable context for understanding one’s own college performance and should be carefully interpreted. For example, on two indicators, Percent of Students Who Earned at Least 30 Units and Persistence Rate, RCC was the lowest in its peer group. However, as stated previously, RCC is making steady positive progress on both of these indicators. The peer grouping has been the subject of considerable discussion, and arguably it has the potential to be the most misunderstood and misreported aspect of the report.

Next Steps: A draft of this year's report was made available to colleges in January 2007, and each college was required to submit a 500-word self-assessment in response to the findings by mid-February 2007. Each self-assessment was to provide further context for interpreting their institution’s statistics, and to emphasize local factors that may help to explain outcomes but are not in the ARCC data. The final version of this report will be made available from the Chancellor’s Office, in mid-March 2007.

Riverside Community College District has been committed to serving the educational needs of its community for over 90 years. RCCD’s students take classes at three primary locations, Riverside City College, Moreno Valley and Norco campuses and at the off campus sites of Ben Clark Training Center, Rubidoux Annex and March Education Center. Currently, Norco and Moreno Valley are seeking accreditation as independent colleges.

The District provides transfer programs, occupational and technical programs, and career preparation leading to the Associate of Arts and/or Sciences degrees and a variety of certificates. In the tradition of general education, students are prepared for intellectual and cultural awareness, critical and independent thought, and self-reliance. Consistent with its responsibility to assist those who can benefit from post-secondary education, the District provides tutorial and supplemental instruction, and basic skills courses for under prepared students.

The District’s service area over 440 square miles is socially, economically and ethnically diverse and includes urban and rural communities. In 2003, the County’s estimated population of 1,766,831 was projected to grow 22.5% by 2010. The majority of that growth will be in RCCD’s service area. Raising the college-going rate for RCCD’s feeder high schools continues to be a challenge and these recent high school students are increasingly under-prepared for college. Enrollment rose from 21,003 in fall 1996 to 30,709 in 2006, an increase of 46%. RCCD typically grants over 2,000 AA/AS degrees and 1,500 certificates yearly. For 2005-06, RCCD transferred over 350 students to the University of California and over 1,000 to the California State University.

RCCD showed improvement in four of the accountability measures (Student Achievement and Progress, Percent of Students Earning at Least 30 Units, Persistence Rate, and Basic Skills Improvement Rate), during the past three years. Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Vocational Education courses stayed stable at 75%.

Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Basic Skills Courses was the only indicator where RCCD decreased during the previous three years. Although the rate went from 64% to 61%, it was still higher than the peer group average of 56%. Even though the successful basic skills course completion rate decreased slightly, the Basic Skills Improvement Rate increased. Although slightly fewer students were completing the individual basic skills courses, more students were subsequently completing higher levels of the basic skills sequence, thereby paving the way for later success in college-level courses. Special efforts are underway at each campus to enhance Basic Skills Education. A diagnostic-prescriptive modular approach to basic skills remediation allows students to build requisite skills by completing a single module rather than an entire course.

RCCD’s accountability indicators demonstrate good levels of performance when compared to the peer groups. For the two indicators lower than the peer group average (Percent of Students who Earned at Least 30 units and Persistence rates), RCCD showed progress or stability. Two of the main Strategic Initiatives for RCCD for 2005-2010 are increasing student persistence, increasing awards, and building transfer readiness.

Matriculation—the Gateway to Success for California Community College (CCC) Students

Matriculation regulations have been in effect since 1991 and Riverside Community College District has spent the past 16 years developing and implementing the eight components of Matriculation to ensure that our students have every possible opportunity to succeed. The Riverside Community College District strongly supports its Matriculation program—when Matriculation suffered budget cuts at the State level in 2003, Riverside was one of the few Districts that continued to operate at a steady funding level due to general fund support which made up the deficit. While other Districts were forced to cut counseling and other services, Riverside was able to maintain the same level of support for its students through this budget crisis. A visit to any of our campuses and centers will reveal examples of the delivery of these Matriculation services. Some Matriculation services, such as assessment/placement testing and orientation classes, are also offered on local high school campuses. In the 2006 budget, Matriculation was partially restored at the State level and full restoration is currently in the proposed allocation for 2007-08. The attached statewide Matriculation research study, coordinated and conducted by RCCD, was widely used to lobby for this restoration of Matriculation funding by the State Legislature.

Matriculation is a big word for a simple concept. It is a program that was designed to bring the California Community Colleges and the students attending them into an agreement. In this agreement, the Colleges commit to providing programs and services needed to help students achieve their educational goals, while students agree to provide the college with necessary information, and to participate in the various components of the Matriculation program. Matriculation is a process that enhances student access to the California Community Colleges and promotes and sustains the efforts of students to be successful in their educational endeavors. The goals of matriculation are to ensure that all students complete their college courses, persist to the next academic term, and achieve their educational objectives through the assistance of the student-direct components of the matriculation process: admissions, orientation, assessment and testing, counseling, and student follow-up. Some of these components, such as Admissions and Counseling, were in existence prior to the implementation of Matriculation Programs. Matriculation Regulations strengthened these areas by providing much needed funding and specified the role that Matriculation would play in these service areas. The primary responsibility of Matriculation is to ensure all students have a fair and equitable opportunity to take advantage of the programs and services that the Community College offers. In admissions, this is accomplished by ensuring that policies and procedures provide access to all student populations and that modifications are made when necessary to meet the needs of specific student populations. One example of this is the work that RCCD has done with providing materials and services in Spanish—the most dominant second language in the communities we serve. With respect to the academic programs and courses that the District offers, this is done through appropriate and legal implementation and enforcement of prerequisites to courses and programs. In the assessment/placement program this is accomplished by disproportionate impact and cut-score revalidation studies that demonstrate that our placement tests and policies are fair to all students.
Components of Matriculation
Matriculation consists of eight components, the first five of these directly effect students.

Component 1: Admissions
Component 2: Orientation--Students learn about the college and its resources.
Component 3: Assessment/Placement—Students participate in a process that uses background information and test scores (multiple measures) to determine their placement levels for English, ESL, math and reading courses.
Component 4: Counseling/Advising—Students meet with counselors to develop a road map to their success--a Student Educational Plan (SEP).
Component 5: Follow-up. Various follow-up processes are in place to help increase the retention and success of our students. One part of this follow-up is an “early alert” process which allows instructors to provide specific feedback to students about their academic performance early in the semester so that they can take advantage of the services offered such as counseling and tutoring. Another example is the probation/dismissal process, which is mandated by Title 5, and requires students who are not making progress toward their educational goals to meet with a counselor to plan coursework appropriate to their skills, time commitments and educational goals.

Matriculation also has three other components that are less visible to students, but that support their success by ensuring the effectiveness of the institution.
Component 6: Co-ordination/Training: The goal of this component is to ensure that all appropriate faculty and staff understand the Matriculation Process and Components.
Component 7: Research: Matriculation regulations require that research is conducted to determine the efficacy of Matriculation services and that this research is utilized to improve services.
Component 8: Pre-& Co-requisites. Matriculation personnel work with college faculty to ensure that requirements for prerequisites and co requisites are appropriate, necessary and enforced in a fair and impartial manner.

Matriculation Research
Research demonstrates that the following risk factors are detrimental to college persistence and success and that as the number of risk factors increase, persistence and success decrease:

In the Riverside Community College District (RCCD) (and most other CCC Districts) the above factors describe a large number of our students, with the addition of the following factors:
- Academically under-prepared
- First-generation college students
- Diverse in every aspect of the word—age, ethnicity, gender, physical and mental abilities, etc.

Research also demonstrates that certain services increase the likelihood of persistence and success of students. Matriculation regulations mandate some of these services such as—assessment, orientation, counseling and follow-up. In the Riverside Community College District, recent research comparing first-time college students who received assessment and counseling services, with those who did not receive these services, demonstrated an increase of 29.5% in persistence from fall to spring (47.2% for non-receivers, 76.7% for receivers). Since this study was limited to students who had a goal of transferring or earning a degree/certificate, all of them had to persist to accomplish their goals. This study was replicated in Region 9 with 3 other colleges and the results mirrored these findings. A Statewide study (see attached study) with 26 California Community Colleges, which was conducted in 2005, also demonstrated comparable findings.

Matriculation Plans
Each community college district is required to adopt a Matriculation Plan describing the services it will provide to its student population. The Plan must be developed in consultation with representatives of the academic senate, students, and staff. The Plan is submitted to the State Chancellor’s office for review and approval. In preparation for our three separate accreditations, in 2005 the campus Deans of Student Services formed “Matriculation Advisory Committees” on each of their campuses. These committees, consisting of faculty, staff, students and administrators, worked together to develop separate campus Matriculation Plans. These plans were presented to the Board of Trustees on September 12, 2006, and sent to the State Chancellor’s Office on October 17, 2006.

Conclusions
Although we are not perfect, RCCD’s Matriculation Program is a model program in the State. We constantly receive calls from other institutions asking for help with implementation of the various components of Matriculation and our Matriculation leaders participate in statewide organizations and committees to improve effectiveness of Matriculation Programs throughout the State. The success of our programs is due to a) the District support for Matriculation; b) District and campus leadership c) excellent Matriculation Specialists at each campus and most importantly, c) widespread participation of faculty, staff and students in the development and implementation of Matriculation programs.

- Most of the students we are serving through the California Community Colleges need support services in order to accomplish their educational goals;
- The only regulations that mandate these services for ALL students are Matriculation Regulations;
- Matriculation is a gateway to all other programs and services. During the “orientation” component of Matriculation, students learn of the other programs and services that are available to them (such as DSPS, EOPS, Student Financial Services, Puente and other Student Equity Programs, etc.) and are able to learn the qualifications and the steps required to apply for these programs.

Matriculation and the persistence of first-time college students, Fall 2001 to 2004

A study was conducted to see how the matriculation components of assessment, counseling, and developing a student education plan (SEP) contribute to student persistence. The present research is a replication of a study conducted in 2003 using data from three colleges within one region in California. This study uses the same structure of the previous one but differs in two ways: more colleges throughout the state were asked to supply data (with a total of 26 colleges who were able to participate) and the terms in question were updated to reflect more current data. Though there are other components of matriculation, these three services are intended to help students as they start college. Orientation is also intended to provide information to students at the beginning of their college careers, but in the original study, many colleges provided orientation as a structural part of assessment and could not therefore provide data to distinguish between the two services. This same limitation was used in the present study.

Colleges were asked to provide data for first-time college students in Fall semesters 2001 to 2004 and who indicated a goal of completing a bachelor’s degree, an associate’s degree or a certificate. Data for these students were provided regarding various demographics and whether or not they received assessment, counseling or an SEP. Though an SEP requires contact with a counselor, the interaction was considered to be sufficiently different to warrant it as a separate variable. Information was provided to determine whether the student persisted to the following Spring semester. Seven colleges were excluded from the analysis because the data they provided showed a lack of variability in one or more of the services. The remaining sample of students (n=99,609) showed that 70% (69,687) received assessment, 56% (55,538) received counseling, and 24% (23,370) received an SEP.

Analysis of the data (using logit analysis and hierarchical loglinear analysis) showed that the interaction of the three services had a significant effect on persistence. The chart shows that as students receive services, they are more likely to persist. Students who receive assessment are generally more likely to persist, unless a student has more interaction with a counselor in terms of a counseling contact as well as an SEP.

Report No.: VI-B-1 Date: March 20, 2007

Subject: Capital Project Management System Agreement with Logic Domain

Background: With the significant workload that has been created by the passage of the Measure C Capital Bond, the Facilities Planning, Design, and Construction Department has been looking to improve Project Management capability and fiscal management for the many projects that are under planning design and construction. For the past several months staff has been evaluating budget and accounting project management controls systems that have the capacity to automate many project management and accounting processes and functions that are currently being done manually. Based on these evaluations, staff is recommending entering into an agreement with Logic Domain to provide its Capital Project Management System (CPMX) for District use. CPMX is a user-friendly system that would allow the department to manage and control individual projects from planning and budgeting through design and construction.

CPMX has superior graphing and reporting capabilities. It is 100% web-based and can be accessed from anywhere at anytime. CPMX can be modified to fit District needs and can be integrated with the District’s central accounting system. CPMX can download the latest payments and expenses on projects, which eliminates redundant entry of project information. It can monitor all projects regardless of the delivery method, and it can be used by different workgroups within a department. All project information can be tracked from inception by the following categories:

- Budget
- Fund Sources and Resource Allocation
- Contracts and Change Orders
- Purchase Orders
- Payments to the Projects
- Forecasting
- Project Schedules

Staff is thus seeking approval for the purchase of the Capital Project Management System provided by Logic Domain to include hardware, software, standard installation, set up, full training and three years of support and maintenance. Measure C funds are requested to fund CPMX, in the amount of $96,000 for the first three years of service and $12,500 per year thereafter for support and maintenance. The Capital Project Management System with Logic Domain can be working and functional within two weeks of acceptance.

Subject: Capital Project Management System Agreement with Logic Domain (continued)

Recommended Action: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees approve the attached agreement with Logic Domain in the amount of $96,000 for the first three years of service and $12,500 per year thereafter and the use of Measure C funds and authorize the Vice Chancellor, Administration and Finance to sign the agreement.

10. Consultant shall procure and maintain comprehensive general liability insurance coverage that shall protect District from claims for damages for personal injury, including, but not limited to, accidental or wrongful death, as well as from claims for property damage, which may arise from Consultant’s activities as well as District’s activities under this contract. Such insurance shall name District as an additional insured with respect to this agreement and the obligations of District hereunder. Such insurance shall provide for limits of not less than $1,000,000.

11. Abandonment: If the project is suspended for more than three months or abandoned in whole or in part, the Consultant shall be paid compensation for services performed prior to receipt of written notice from District of such suspension or abandonments, together with reimbursable expenses then due and all termination expenses resulting from such suspension or abandonment. On the event of termination due to the fault of parties other than the Consultant, the Consultant shall be paid his compensation for services performed to termination date, including reimbursable expenses due and all termination expenses. Termination expenses are defined as reimbursable expenses directly attributed to termination, plus an amount computed as a percentage of the total compensation earned to the time of termination.

12. Consultant shall not discriminate against any person in the provision of services or employment of persons on the basis of race, color, national origin or ancestry, religion, physical handicap, medical condition, marital status or sex.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this agreement on the day and year first above written.
