RIVERSIDE COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT
TEACHING AND LEARNING

Report No.: VI-A-2 Date: March 18, 2008

Subject: Accountability Reporting for Community Colleges

Background: Presented for the Board’s review and consideration is the Accountability Reporting for Community Colleges report issued by the California Community College’s Chancellor’s Office in March 2008. The report’s objectives are intended to make policymakers, local college officials, and elected boards aware of overall system and specific colleges’ level of performance in seven specific areas of effort and to inform the public about overall performance of the system.

Included in this report is Riverside Community College District’s institutional response to the report’s findings. During the three most recent time periods under examination, RCCD was able to maintain or increase its level of performance on six of the seven accountability measures.

Accountability Reporting for the Community Colleges, 2008:
Executive Summary

Background: Accountability Reporting for the Community Colleges (or ARCC) is a set of performance indicators for the California Community Colleges (CCC). ARCC meets a legislative requirement that resulted from Assembly Bill 1417. As required by the Legislature, the CCC System Office will produce this report yearly and disseminate it so that every college can share it with its local board of trustees. The report’s objective is to inform policymakers, local college officials, and elected boards of overall system performance and individual college performance in seven specific areas of effort.

A team of statewide college researchers, a panel of nationally recognized researchers on college performance, a statewide technical advisory workgroup, and staff at the Chancellor’s Office created the ARCC. This is the second annual ARCC report and the present report will be widely available to state government policymakers and the public at large in mid-March 2008.

Structure: The report is structured into two sections: system wide performance and individual college performance. The report’s first section covers the system’s overall performance over time for a variety of indicators. The systemwide indicators are organized into the broad categories of:

student progress and achievement (in the areas of)
- degree and certificate attainment
- transfer rates
- vocational, occupational and workforce development
- participation rates

and pre-collegiate improvement (in the areas of)
- basic skills
- English as a Second Language.
Systemwide, these indicators are reported as counts (and where appropriate, as percentages) of transfer, degrees and certificates, as well as income changes as a result of occupational training, and counts and percentages of students graduating from the University of California and from the California State University who began their educational careers at community colleges.

These indicators are derived from many data sources, including public and private institutions of higher learning, the California Employment Development Department, the National Student Clearinghouse, and the Chancellor’s Office database, among others. They are not simply aggregations of all the individual college performances. Given the breadth and complexity of these measures, this body of information is not currently available for each individual college, so this data is presented for the entire California Community Colleges system.

The second section of the report is dedicated to the individual college-level indicators. For the seven individual measures in the present study, each college was given data reflecting three sequential years so that changes and trends could be identified. Each set of college-level outcomes was divided into Student Progress and Achievement (with four indicators) and Pre-Collegiate Improvement (with three indicators).

College Level Indicators for Riverside Community College: In Student Progress and Achievement, for the first indicator Degree/Certificate/Transfer, data was provided that showed changes in the percentage of first-time students who showed “intent to complete”\(^1\) and who achieved any of the following outcomes within six years: transfer to a four-year college, or earned an AA/AS, or earned a certificate of at least 18 units, or achieved “Transfer Directed”\(^2\) status or achieved “Transfer Prepared”\(^3\) status. On this measure, RCC remained relatively stable with the three cohorts’ rates being 46.1%, 48.9% and 46.0%, for the cohorts starting in 1999, 2000 and 2001, respectively. (In this report, the term “relatively stable” is used when the differences between the highest and lowest measures were less than three percentage points.)

1 A Transfer or Degree “Intent To Complete” is when a student attempts a degree applicable credit math or English course. A Certificate “Intent to Complete” is when a student attempts either an Advanced Occupational or Apprentice level Credit course.
2 “Transfer Directed” means a student successfully completed at least one transfer-level Math and English course.
3 “Transfer Prepared” means student successfully completed 60 UC/CSU transferable units with a grade point average of at least 2.0 in those transferable courses.
For the second indicator, Percent of Students Who Earned at Least 30 Units, the percentage of first-time RCC students who showed intent to complete and who earned at least 30 units while in the California Community College system increased from 67.5% to 69.9%. On the third indicator, Persistence Rate, RCC remained relatively stable in the percentage of first-time students with a minimum of six units earned in a fall term and who returned and enrolled in the subsequent fall term anywhere in the California Community College System. These rates were 65.3%, 66.2% and 65.8%, for the fall 2002, 2003 and 2004 cohorts, respectively. RCC’s Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Vocational Courses, the report’s fourth indicator, remained stable at 75% for the academic years 2004-05 and 2005-06 and then rose to 78% in the 2006-07 academic year.

In Pre-Collegiate Improvement (Basic Skills and ESL), RCC had mixed results. On the measure of Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Basic Skills Courses, RCC remained relatively stable at 61.3%, 60.2% and 62.0% for academic years 2004-05, 2005-06 and 2006-07, respectively. The Improvement Rates for Credit Basic Skills Courses, is a measure comprising two different rates: ESL Improvement Rate and Basic Skills Improvement Rate. Each of these indicators measure the proportion of students successfully taking a higher level ESL or Basic Skills course within during a subsequent three year period.

The ESL Improvement Rates for the cohorts starting in 2002, 2003 and 2004 were 49.9%, 49.1% and 45.3%, respectively. The RCC 2004 cohort rate was higher than the statewide rate of 44.7%, and was less than four percentage points lower than the peer group average. The Basic Skills Improvement Rate remained relatively stable at 55.2%, 57.3% and 56.0% for the cohorts starting in 2002, 2003 and 2004, respectively. (The present ARCC report also lists the Enhanced Noncredit Progress and Achievement Rate, but since RCCD does not offer any of these type of courses, that table is left blank in the report.)

The college-level report also includes indicators that include the Annual Unduplicated Headcount and Full-Time Equivalent Students and provides demographic information (age, gender and ethnicity) about RCC students for the past three academic years.
The last section of each college-specific report is dedicated to reporting college performance relative to their ranking within their peer grouping. The peer grouping is performed by the Chancellor’s Office and represents their attempt to “level the playing field”. For every college-level indicator, there are external factors beyond the control of the college that affect its performance on that indicator. Colleges were grouped as “peers” based on the statistical magnitude that these external factors had on each college-level indicator. (For example, research literature indicates that transfer rates are affected by level of academic preparedness of student body, distance to nearest UC/CSU, income levels of service areas, and percentage of older students served, among other external factors. Peer colleges would have similar levels on all these factors and would be classified together.) Since the peer grouping is done statistically, these groupings do not necessarily reflect any traditional, intuitive grouping method, like size of college or geographical proximity. Also, since each college-level indicator is affected by different external factors, each college is assigned to different peer groups for each indicator. The intent of the peer groupings is to provide a more comparable context for understanding one’s own college performance and should be carefully interpreted. The peer grouping has been the subject of considerable discussion, and arguably it has the potential to be the most misunderstood and misreported aspect of the report.

For each of the seven indicators, RCC is within five percentage points of their peer groups averages.

Next Steps: A draft of this year’s report was made available to colleges in January 2008, and each college was required to submit a 500-word self-assessment in response to the findings by mid-February 2008. Each self-assessment was to provide further context for interpreting their institution’s statistics, and to emphasize local factors that may help to explain outcomes but are not in the ARCC data. The final version of this report will be made available from the Chancellor’s Office, in mid-March 2008.

Riverside Community College District has been committed to serving the educational needs of its community for more than 90 years. RCCD’s students take classes at three primary locations; Riverside City College, Moreno Valley and Norco campuses. The off campus sites are located at Ben Clark Training Center, Rubidoux Annex and March Education Center. In January 2008, the Norco and Moreno Valley campuses were elevated to candidacy for accreditation by the ACCJC.

The District provides transfer programs, occupational and technical programs, and career preparation leading to the Associate of Arts and/or Sciences degrees and a variety of certificates. In the tradition of general education, students are prepared for intellectual and cultural awareness, critical and independent thought, and self-reliance. Consistent with its responsibility to assist those who can benefit from post-secondary education, the District provides tutorial and supplemental instruction, and basic skills courses for under-prepared students.

The District’s service area, which spans over 440 square miles, includes socially, economically and ethnically diverse urban and rural communities. A recent environmental scan estimates that the population of the RCCD service area will grow from 1,040,099 in 2005 to 1,373,919 in 2020, an increase of 32%. However, the college-going rate for RCCD’s feeder high schools continues to be a challenge, as recent high school students are increasingly under-prepared for college.

Enrollment rose from 21,003 in fall 1996 to 34,494 in fall 2007, an increase of 64%. RCCD typically grants over 2,000 AA/AS degrees and 1,500 certificates yearly. For 2006-07, RCCD transferred 345 students to the University of California and over 1,000 students to the California State University.

Percent of Students Earning at Least 30 Units increased from 67.5% to 69.9%, showing clear improvement on this measure. On five other measures, RCCD remained relatively stable (the differences between the highest and lowest measures were less than three percentage points): Student Achievement and Progress Rate, Persistence Rate, Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Vocational Education Courses, Annual Successful Course Completion Rate for Credit Basic Skills Courses, and Improvement Rates for Credit Basic Skills Courses.

Improvement Rates for ESL Courses is the sole indicator that RCCD decreased during the previous three cohorts. The rate went from 49.9% to 45.3%, less than four percentage points lower than the peer group average of 49.0%.

This year the Successful Basic Skills Course Completion Rate and Improvement Rate remained relatively stable. Students are successful in both individual basic skills classes, and through the basic skills sequence. Special efforts are underway to enhance Basic Skills Education including a diagnostic-prescriptive modular approach which allows students to build requisite skills by completing a single module rather than an entire course.
RCCD's accountability indicators demonstrate good levels of performance when compared to the peer groups (RCCD was within five percentage points of all peer group averages). Strategic Initiatives for 2005-2010 are aimed at improving student persistence, increasing the number of awards, and building transfer readiness.
Background: Presented for the Board’s review and consideration is a brief report by the Interim Vice Chancellor of Student Services, Debbie DiThomas. Riverside Community College District’s educational philosophy is based on the premise that physical well being is a prerequisite for academic, career, and professional endeavors. Thus, the District offers a wide range of courses and programs in the field of physical education. Further, it maintains and supports a program of intercollegiate athletics in 19 different sports that compete as members of the Mission Conference in Football and the Orange Empire Conference for all other sports. This paper provides additional information about each of these areas and the opportunities they present to our students.

Physical Education Program

Mission Statement

The Physical Education Discipline and Athletics Department serves the Riverside Community College District’s mission by providing the highest standard of instruction and programs possible, including nineteen athletic programs, designed to meet the needs of transfer, pre-professional, career and occupational students. The Physical Education discipline’s activities are closely aligned with the district’s mission in three areas:

- “The Riverside Community College District is an accessible, comprehensive community college…”

The Physical Education Discipline provides access to Physical Education courses for students on all three campuses by both offering a wide variety of courses offered in a number of different delivery and scheduling options. These options include fully on-line and hybrid distance education formats, early morning, late evening and weekend courses, health and wellness courses, physical activity courses, and state approved certificate patterns. Different scheduling options and delivery formats accommodate the working individual by giving them the opportunity to take courses without interrupting their work schedule. The Physical Education Discipline also offers multiple levels (beginning, intermediate and advanced) of lifetime activity courses designed to match the ability and skills of students and adaptive physical education courses for disabled and physically challenged students.

- “The district provides transfer programs paralleling the first two years of university offerings, pre-professional, career preparations and occupational…”

The Physical Education Discipline offers lower-division, university-level courses such as Introduction to Physical Education, Nutrition and First Aid and CPR. Additionally, the Physical Education Discipline has developed, approved, and implemented the state-approved Exercise, Sport and Wellness Certificate Program.

- “The district works in partnerships with other educational institutions, business, and industry…”

With the development and implementation of the Exercise, Sport and Wellness Certificate Program, the Physical Education Discipline provides an educational and practical foundation for students interested in multiple professions within the community. The Discipline embraces the district’s values of student centeredness and teaching excellence and strives to provide effective learning environments for students that exemplify the district’s traditions of pride, quality, innovation, and professionalism.
The Discipline’s activities are in alignment with the district’s goals of student-centered learning, continuous curriculum improvement, developing, implementing, assessing and improving programs for a three-college district, and ensuring programs are relevant and current for the community that we serve. Members of the discipline understand the importance of participating in the governance of the district and as a result serve on the following committees:

- Academic Senate
- Strategic Planning
- Professional Growth & Sabbatical Leave
- Academic Standards
- District Assessment
- Curriculum
- Long Range Educational/Facility Master Plan

Faculty, Curriculum and Programs

The Physical Education Discipline is committed to expanding and improving the existing curriculum and improving instruction to better meet students’ needs. The faculty have diverse backgrounds and are skilled, proficient instructors.

Currently, there are twelve full-time tenure-track faculty. In addition, there are three professional experts; their sole responsibility is coaching. These include the Associate Head Coach - Football, Head Women’s Basketball Coach and Head Women’s Track and Cross Country Coach. In fall 2007, the discipline also included 61 part-time faculty members.

During fall 2005, 185 Physical Education sections were offered that served a total of 4,302 students. These classes included activity, lecture, and varsity sport classes. The retention and success rates were 89.9% and 82%, respectively. During fall 2006, 184 Physical Education sections were offered and serving a total of 4,276 students. The retention and course success rates were 89.9% and 81.8%, respectively. Physical Education ranks in the top five of all disciplines for retention and course success at Riverside Community College District. Fall 2007 numbers are not currently available.

The discipline has 63 one unit physical activity courses that are AA degree and transfer credit applicable. These courses are numbered PHP-A03 through PHP-A95 and offer skill development, enhancement and learning in areas such as Weight training, karate, hatha yoga, kickboxing, aerobics, and physical fitness. Many of the activity classes are sequenced for skill improvement in a series of classes starting with beginning, and progressing through intermediate and advanced levels. The discipline also offers 29 lecture and lecture/laboratory courses. These courses are either two or three units.
Exercise, Sport and Wellness Certificate Program

In fall 2004, the Physical Education Discipline developed, gained state approval, and implemented the Exercise, Sport and Wellness (ESW) Certificate Program. The Certificate provides an educational and practical foundation for students interested in multiple professions in the area of physical education, athletic training, coaching, and the fitness professions. Students pursuing a certificate in Exercise, Sport, and Wellness must choose a specific area of emphasis: Athletic Training, Coaching, or Fitness Professions. The Fitness Professions Emphasis may be completed within two semesters (24 units). It takes only three semesters to complete the Coaching Emphasis (30 units). The Athletic Training Emphasis may be completed within three semesters (29 units).

These emphasis areas are designed to meet the growing need for qualified individuals in the occupational areas of Athletic Training Aide, Physical Therapy Aide, Health and Fitness Club Attendant, High School Coach, Junior High or Middle School Coach, Club Coach, Personal Trainer, Group Fitness Instructor, Yoga Instructor, Water Safety Instructor, Lifeguard, and Weight Training Instructor.

Students who complete this certificate program have workplace readiness skills that leads to employment with school districts, sports medicine clinics, athletic training businesses, fitness clubs and centers, recreational centers, city parks and recreational departments, community sports organizations and the corporate fitness industry. Wages will vary depending on employment setting and level of experience. Currently, there are approximately 50 students pursuing one of the three certificate patterns. In 2005, a full-time faculty member was hired to coordinate the certificate program.

The discipline has also established an ongoing Advisory Committee for the ESW Certificate program. Current Advisory Committee members provide input on current trends and needs of the current and potential employers in the schools districts (part-time coaches), city parks and recreation departments, sport medicine clinics, community sports organizations and clubs, athletic training businesses, fitness clubs, and the corporate fitness industry.

Self Development Degree Requirement

Riverside Community College District’s general education requirements include Physical Education coursework. Although at times the inclusion of Physical Education as a degree requirement has been questioned, RCCD faculty, administration, and Board of Trustees have demonstrated an understanding of the important need for physical activity, fitness, and the wellness of our students by maintaining this requirement. Improving fitness levels, exposure to physical wellness education, and participation in physical activity help students develop a lifelong appreciation for physical well being. Physical Fitness, and Healthful Living courses are desperately needed, today more than ever, at the community college level.
Fitness and nutritional concepts, healthy lifestyle behaviors, and the development of lifetime activity habits are even more important for students today than the students of 15 years ago. As Americans have become more sedentary, the nation is faced with epidemic levels of medical issues related to weight problems and obesity. There have been many changes in our society that have led to fully two-thirds of the adult population in the U.S. being overweight or obese which can lead to other health problems such as heart disease, hypertension, diabetes and increased risk for cancer. Medical professionals and researchers are currently very concerned about the growing epidemic of preventable Type 2 Diabetes (adult onset) in U.S. teenagers. Research suggests that physical activity is reduced dramatically between ages 17-23 and educational interventions in higher education are recognized as playing a preeminent role in reversing the trend toward sedentary lifestyles in our nation. The RCCD’s physical activity, physical fitness, and physical wellness courses serve as the backbone for encouraging behavior modification and adherence to a life-long healthy lifestyle.

Collaboration with Other Units

The discipline is very involved in collaborative projects with other units at RCCD. For example, discipline members have worked with Facilities and Planning in developing the design of the Physical Education Complex (Riverside Campus). Phase 1 of the project (construction of the new Track and Football Field) was completed in June, 2005. On the Norco Campus, physical education faculty were instrumental in the development of the campus’ new Fitness Center which is the site of nine classes which were previously held off campus. The Physical Education discipline anxiously awaits future projects on all three campuses.

In Fall 2004, the Physical Education Discipline in conjunction with the director of Diversity and Human Resources, started the Health and Wellness Program for Classified and Confidential employees. This program enables faculty and staff to extend their lunch hour up to 30 minutes, three days a week to attend physical education classes or other physical wellness activities. The discipline has worked with Institutional Research to develop student surveys that identify students’ needs and concerns in regard to course offerings and facilities. The surveys have been used to inform the scheduling of classes, new course offerings and facility/equipment improvements.

The discipline currently works with Community Education to schedule classes and summer camp programs. Members of the discipline also consult with Disabled Student Services to ensure the needs of students with special needs are met through the adaptive physical education courses.

The discipline collaborates with the Early Childhood Studies Department regarding the PHP 6 - PE for Preschool and Elementary Teachers course and with the financial aid, counseling and tutoring departments relative to student athletes. The Ben Clark Training Center has used the Riverside City’s Fitness center for many of their training classes. Finally, the discipline works extensively with the marching band and dance discipline regarding shared facility use. The result of these discussions has led to new course offerings, better student accommodations, and the improvement of collaborative efforts with other disciplines.
In addition to ongoing work with other units within RCCD, the Physical Education discipline collaborates with other educational institutions, businesses and the community. The discipline has successfully partnered with local bowling alleys, fitness clubs, and golf courses to provide the best possible learning environment and opportunities for students. The Department Chair at the Riverside City Campus is a member of the Physical Education advisory committee at Cal State San Bernardino. Additionally, the discipline is very involved with local service clubs such as the Kiwanis, Rotary, and Exchange clubs.

The Physical Education Discipline is committed to expanding and improving the existing curriculum and improving instruction to better meet students’ needs. The Discipline’s vision is to continue to provide a wide variety of classes that are responsive to both student and community needs. These classes provide opportunities for the general student body to receive current knowledge about physical fitness, healthful living practices, leisure time pursuits, and stress management techniques. In addition, students develop motor skills and healthy lifestyles, and participate in activities that can be enjoyed throughout their lives.

The biggest challenge in the future is to improve the learning environment for our students. Additional facilities to offer more class sections with larger capacities for our lecture and activity classes, train current faculty in new technology use, and hire qualified full-time faculty are vital to the Physical Education Discipline. A quality physical education program is central to the Mission of the Riverside Community College District. Enhancing health knowledge and personal fitness levels are every bit as important as improving the intellectual vitality of community members and are essential to a high quality of life.
Athletics Program

Riverside Community College District’s Athletic Department fields teams that meet the diverse needs and interests of the student body and community and provides student-athletes the best possible opportunity to transfer to a four-year college. The District’s Athletic program consists of 19 varsity sports, including 10 men’s and 9 women’s teams. The goals of the athletic program are to provide a quality intercollegiate athletic program that a) meets the needs of a diverse student population, b) encourages academic success, and c) assists student-athletes in meeting their occupational and/or transfer goals.

RCCD promotes excellence in athletics by maintaining high expectations and standards for student academic achievement and integrity through the commitment to promote respect for rules and adherence to a strict code of conduct. Student athletes are encouraged by the coaching staff and administration to maintain a balance between athletics, academics, and the social aspects of college. It is firmly believed that athletic participation gives an added dimension to the student’s overall college experience and provides an opportunity for social, moral, emotional, and cultural development. RCCD supports the concepts of Title IX and, at all times, provides equal opportunity for participation in athletics.

Founded in 1916, Riverside Junior College held its first athletic contest, men’s and women’s tennis, that very year. In that same year, the college won both the men’s and women’s tennis championships. Men’s and Women’s Basketball began in 1920. By 1922, the college was fielding teams in all major sports such as football, basketball, track and field, and baseball. In 1925, all four of the major men’s sports (football, basketball, baseball and track) won championships. The tradition-rich athletic program continues to prosper with RCCD widely known for having one of the best and most comprehensive athletic programs in the state. Today, there are 19 athletic teams, plus a Cheer and Dance Squad and a full complement of student athletic trainers. The program serves close to 500 student athletes. The district is part of the Orange Empire Conference which is one of the strongest and toughest conferences in the state of California. From its first venture into athletics to today, RCC has won numerous conference championships. Most state championships started in the 1950’s for the men and the late 1970’s for the women. As of today, we have won 20 State Championships and one National Championship. The most recent state championship win was the women’s water polo team who are the 2007 State Water Polo Champions. Many of the program’s student-athletes have transferred to and compete at the university level. In 2006-2007, 92 student-athletes transferred to 4-year colleges to continue their educational and athletic careers. In addition, RCC student-athletes have competed at the Olympics, such as Luann Ryon, a Gold Medalist in Archery, Nourddine Morceli, a Gold Medalist in Track and Field, and Julius Kairuki a Silver Medalist in Track and Field. Numerous RCC alumni have made the transition to the professional level in football, basketball and baseball. Bobby Keilty, a baseball player for the Boston Red Sox, who hit the game winning home run in Game 4 of the 2007 World Series; Derrick Rogers who received All Pro honors while playing for the Miami Dolphins and New Orleans Saints in the NFL; and Bob Rule who was an NBA All Star while competing with the Seattle SuperSonics are examples of RCC alumni who were successful as professional athletes.
As with most organizations, the success of an athletic program depends on the caliber of the person ultimately responsible for the team – the head coach. The hard working, dedicated coaches and support staff are the heart and soul of the RCCD Athletic Program. These coaches do much more than merely “coach” a few hours a day—they are recruiters and ambassadors for RCCD’s programs and its campuses. They are consistently in the community, visiting area high schools, attending high school athletic events, and community functions. They frequently speak at service clubs, many of which donate scholarships to the district. The coaches dedicate themselves to their student athletes. An athletic team is the best and longest standing learning community within the college. The intercollegiate coaches get to know their student-athletes very well. Whether assisting the student-athlete in the scheduling of classes, financial aid, grade and progress reports, study hall, academic advising, counseling, meeting eligibility requirements, fund raising, or the placement of an athlete at a four year university, the coach is a reliable and caring source of support. Under the guidance of the Athletic Director and Assistant Athletic Director, coaches either make or provide valuable input on the administrative decisions concerning their programs. Within the policies of the district and athletic department, state rules and regulations, and the NCAA regulations, the coaches operate, organize, and are responsible for their programs. The head coaches also serve as mentors to their assistant coaches. Most are full time Physical Education instructors who educate and challenge students during their physical education courses as well as in their intercollegiate sport. Additionally, they work collaboratively with their colleagues in the governance of the college. They do this through active committee involvement in such areas as Curriculum, Academic Senate, Academic Standards, Strategic Planning, Professional Growth and Sabbatical Leave, District Assessment and Long Range Education/Facilities Master Plan.

The most important ingredient in our athletic program is, of course, the student athlete. In order to be eligible to compete in intercollegiate athletics, the student-athletes are required to adhere to a much higher academic standard than the regular RCCD student. For example, eligibility requirements mandate that student-athletes be continuously and actively enrolled and attending class in a minimum of 12 units during their season of sport. Between seasons, they have to pass 24 units with 18 of those units counting toward the AA degree, remediation, transfer and/or certification as defined by the college catalog, while maintaining a 2.0 GPA. Most of the student athletes also are enrolled in winter and summer sessions. In addition, all student-athletes must have an educational plan on file by the end of their first season of eligibility.

According to Institutional Research, for the 2006 – 2007 academic year, full time student athletes, from 17 – 25 years of age, completed more units than the general student population, 17 – 25 years of age. They also had a higher GPA for those units completed than the general student population.

One of the primary goals within the athletic department is to facilitate the matriculation and transfer of student athletes. The coaches are instrumental in this process. Coaches provide much of the educational advising and are very involved in planning for their students’ transfer to a four year college or university. Transfer and eligibility requirements differ at the various divisions in college athletics (Div. I, II, III, and NAIA), and the coaches work diligently to understand and stay abreast of these regulations. They counsel their student athletes accordingly. The coach often also acts as an “agent” for his/her student athletes by advocating for scholarship offers to 4-year colleges and universities. It is not uncommon for coaches to personally contact colleges on the student athletes’ behalf. The past performance of RCCD’s athletic department with respect to the number of student-athletes moving on to the university level is outstanding.

The athletic department is in dire need of assistance with the academic advising and planning for our student athletes. Given the stringent eligibility rules at the community college, the NCAA Division I, Division II, Division III and NAIA transfer requirements, the NCAA’s 40-60-80 rule (which states that student-athletes must complete 40% of their degree requirements by the end of their second year of competition, 60% by the end of the third year, and 80% by the end of the fourth year), and all of the different individual college’s transfer requirements, it is difficult for both coaches and general counselors to maintain currency in order to give student-athletes accurate and timely information. Yet it is our responsibility to give student athletes all of the guidance they need to be successful. We currently have close to 500 full-time student athletes. The head football coach, who started at the college as a counselor, has 20% release time to contribute to the counseling of approximately 120 student athletes in the football program. Two additional full-time generalist counselors are NCAA knowledgeable. These counselors participate in athletic orientation sessions and student athletes are generally referred to them for academic advising. When these specific counselors are not available, student athletes make appointments to see any available counselor for their mandatory student educational plan. Because of all the different transfer and eligibility rules, it is impossible for the coaches to completely advise and counsel the student athletes along with all of their other duties. To give the student-athletes the necessary tools and services to ensure their academic success, a comprehensive athletic counseling and advising program is needed. In fact, most districts the size of RCCD have at least a part-time athletic advisor.

Athletics programs are important to RCCD and the community. Athletics provides one of the largest and most rewarding open doors to higher education. The program’s exposure within the community is very visible and wide spread. The athletic program enjoys tremendous community support and interest. The coaches reach out and strive to embrace the community. This effort has resulted in the formation of many partnerships with area organizations and businesses. For example, the district’s baseball and softball fields are shared with the City of Riverside. An aquatic complex is being planned in conjunction with the City of Riverside. Examples of other partnerships and relationships include the Victoria Country Club, practice site for the district’s golf team practices. Canyon Crest Golf course supports RCC by hosting a fund raiser golf tournament. Riverside Unified School District (RUSD) uses the football and track stadium for major events such as high school graduation. RUSD also cosponsors, along with the athletic department, a middle school basketball tournament that is held on the Riverside City campus. Wells Fargo Bank is a major sponsor that donates to the athletic program and the sports information program. Soboba is a major donor and sponsor of the athletic program.
International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers donated the electronic score board for the football stadium. The Riverside Sports Clinic works with our athletic trainers and student athletic trainers in the treatment and rehabilitation of our student athletes. Although many RCCD student-athlete alumni are competing all over the nation, many others have settled in the community and continue to attend and support athletic events and programs. All of these partnerships have strengthened the bond between the community and RCCD.

Our athletic booster organization, The Tiger Backers, is a prime example of community involvement and support. Founded in 1980, the Tiger Backers are recognized as one of the most supportive and active booster groups in the California Community College system. Over the years, the Tiger Backers have undertaken many major projects to improve RCCD athletic programs. New stadium lighting, new baseball and softball dugouts, a state of the art website, air conditioning in the weight room, new football goal posts, t-shirts and sweats are examples of the projects that have been funded by Tiger Backer fundraisers and other donations. The Tiger Backers also pay a portion of the cost of championship rings for athletic teams that win state championships. Since their inception, the Tiger Backers have contributed nearly two million dollars for the betterment of RCCD athletics.

A major task today is the implementation of athletic programs at Moreno Valley and Norco. Currently, we are a District Athletic Program. When we become three independent colleges, some consideration will be given to offering athletic programs at each college. Preliminary and long range plans for athletic programs on the campuses are being discussed and will need to go through the campuses’ and District’s strategic planning process. The extent of the programs at each college will depend upon many factors such as:

- District and campus administration and the Board of Trustees interest in and support of the athletic program;
- Staffing – head coach, assistant coaches, trainers, eligibility clerk, equipment manager, field personnel, sports information director and an athletic administrator;
- Facilities – adequate playing facilities, locker rooms, team rooms, coaches offices and training room;
- Funding – Coaching stipends, release time, equipment, transportation, officials, entry fees, conference dues and meals and services for student athletes; and
- Application to a conference and scheduling – must be completed one year prior to competition.

In starting athletic programs, there are philosophical choices to be made collaboratively. Do you start from scratch with a blank slate and build from there? Or do you keep the current programs that are at Moreno Valley and Norco and build at the risk of weakening the current athletic program at Riverside City College? These are just some of the questions that need to be addressed before an athletic program can be started at the newer campuses.

The Athletic programs provide major benefits to the District and the community it serves. In fact, when the District conducted the feasibility study for the major gifts campaign, the consultants reported to the Board that the athletic program was a major asset to the District’s fundraising efforts in the community. They attributed this to the fact that many local business people in the community had attended RCCD and participated in intercollegiate athletics. They also reported this finding is unusual in community colleges. A few additional benefits are: 1) Tremendous community involvement, interest and support; 2) Increased student enrollment due to the student desire to participate in athletics at RCC; and 3) Student athletes have proven to be more successful academically and transferred at a higher rate than the regular student.

Subject: District Modular Projects – Moreno Valley Allied Health Sciences and Riverside City Campus – Project/Budget Approval

Background: On March 20, 2007 the Board approved the District Modular Projects to be funded from Measure C Funds. The projects included the purchase of modular units and the moving of modular units from the Riverside City campus to other District locations. The project at the Norco campus has been completed and was occupied on September 1, 2007. The project at the Moreno Valley campus is 99% complete and was occupied on February 19, 2008.

The project that was intended to move units from the Riverside campus to the Ben Clark Training Center (BCTC) to provide space of the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) training program has been terminated. A revised project to provide space for the expansion of Allied Health Sciences has now been programmed to move the units that were intended for BCTC to the Moreno Valley Campus.

The project to reconfigure and move units that are to remain on the Riverside City Campus has been revised to provide space to support the programs that are to occupy those units. In brief, these include renovating units to house the District Police Department, International Students Program, Office of Education, Workforce Preparation, Gateway to College, Riverside School of the Arts, faculty offices and offices for CTA, CSEA and Academic Senate. Additionally, units will be renovated to provide locker rooms for softball and baseball, support space for the college band, office space for athletics, instructional space for Karate and space for the Early Childhood Services Program.

Staff is now requesting that the Board approve the project budget for the revised District Modular Projects - Moreno Valley Allied Health Sciences and Riverside City Campus in the amount of $6,500,000. The project cost includes all Design and Engineering Services, Construction, Instructional Technology and Audio Visual Equipment and Infrastructure, tests, inspections, fees and reconditioning of the vacated site.

Revised Accreditation and Revised/New Academic Affairs Board Policies – First Reading

Background: At the January Board meeting, with the exception of Policies 4005 and 4260, the previously approved accreditation policies were pulled in order to give the Academic Senate time to review the issue of removing certain language the Senate had requested from these policies and, instead, rely on Policy 4005. In addition, there were also several new or revised Academic Affairs Policies that were pulled for the same reason. The Academic Senate has had a chance to discuss the issue and all Policies that were pulled are now before the Board for first reading. Policy 4005 combines the language from Policy/Regulation 3010 into one document and specifically addresses the primary function of the Academic Senate. Policy 4260 was pulled for a revision of proposed policy language.

Policy 3200 – Accreditation
Policy 3250 – Institutional Planning – new language
Policy 4005 – Academic Senate – replaces/updates current policy/regulation 3010
Policy 4020 – Program, Curriculum and Course Development – new language
Policy 4025 – Philosophy and Criteria for Associate Degree and General Education Policy 4100 - Graduation Requirements for degrees and Certificates – new Policy 4240 - Academic Renewal - new Policy 4260 – Limitations on Enrollment - Pre-requisites and Co-requisites – replaces/updates current Policy 6092
Policy 6200 – Budget Preparation

Recommended Action: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees accept for first reading Board Policies 3200, 3250, 4005, 4020, 4025, 4100, 4240, 4260 and 6200.

If a recommendation is not approved, The Board or its designee shall communicate its reason in writing to the Senate in a timely manner. BP 4025 PHILOSOPHY AND CRITERIA FOR ASSOCIATE DEGREE AND GENERAL EDUCATION

References:
Title 5 Section 55805;
Accreditation Standard II.A.3

Courses that are designated to fulfill the general education and depth requirements shall meet the following philosophy.

The awarding of an Associate degree is intended to represent more than an accumulation of units. It is to symbolize a successful attempt on the part of the college to lead students through patterns of learning experiences designed to develop certain capabilities and insights. Among these are the ability to think and to communicate clearly and effectively both orally and in writing; to use mathematics, to understand the modes of inquiry of the major disciplines; to be aware of other cultures and times; to achieve insights gained through experience in thinking about ethical problems, and to develop the capacity for self-understanding.

Central to an Associate degree, general education is designed to introduce students to the variety of means through which people comprehend the modern world. It reflects the conviction of colleges that those who receive their degrees must possess in common certain basic principles, concepts and methodologies both unique to and shared by the various disciplines. College educated persons must be able to use this knowledge when evaluating and appreciating the physical environment, the culture, and the society in which they live. Most important, general education should lead to better understanding.

In the establishing or modifying a general education program, ways shall be sought to create coherence and integration among the separate requirements. It is also desirable that general education programs involve students actively in examining values inherent in proposed solutions to major society problems.

The Chancellor shall establish procedures to assure that courses used to meet general education and associate degree requirements meet the standards in this policy. The procedures shall provide for appropriate Academic Senate involvement. The Board of Trustees, or its designees, shall rely primarily upon the Academic Senates' recommendations regarding degree and certificate requirements.

Students must also complete the general education residency and competency requirements set forth in Title 5 regulations.

Students may be awarded a Certificate of Achievement upon successful completion of a minimum of 18 or more semester units of degree-applicable coursework designed as a pattern of learning experiences designed to develop certain capabilities that may be oriented to career or general education.

The Chancellor shall establish procedures to determine degree and certificate requirements. The procedures shall assure that graduation requirements are published in the District's catalog(s) and included in other resources that are convenient for students.

The Chancellor is authorized and shall establish pre-requisites, co-requisites, and advisories on recommended preparation for courses in the curriculum on the recommendation of the Academic Senate. In order to establish a pre-requisite, co-requisite or advisory, the pre-requisite, co-requisite or advisory must be determined to be necessary and appropriate for achieving the purpose for which they are established. At a minimum, pre-requisites, co-requisites and advisories on recommended preparation shall be based on content review, with additional methods of scrutiny being applied depending on the type of prerequisite, co-requisite or advisory being established. The procedures shall include the method in which a pre-requisite or co-requisite may be challenged by a student on grounds permitted by law. Pre-requisites, co-requisites, and advisories shall be identified in District publications available to students.

The District shall establish pre-requisites, co-requisites, advisories, and limitations on enrollment. Pre-requisites and co-requisites can be established for a course when it is highly unlikely that the student will receive a satisfactory grade in the course without certain skills, information or a body of knowledge taught in a different course (or not taught in the class). At a minimum, pre-requisites, co-requisites and advisories on recommended preparation, a) shall be based on content review, with additional methods of scrutiny being applied depending on the type of prerequisite, co-requisite or advisory being established; and, b) will be reviewed at least every six (6) years as a part of the curriculum review process to assure that they remain necessary and appropriate.

The procedure for establishing the limitations on enrollment will, a) assure that courses for which pre-requisites or co-requisites are established will be taught in accordance with the course outline of record; and, b) include the basis and process for an individual student to challenge the pre-requisite or co-requisite. All limitations on enrollment will be identified in the schedule of classes, district catalog and other publications available to students.
