

OUTSTANDING PARTNER
Distribution Management Association
Steve Harrington, Chairman/President

Norco College is positioned as the technology campus within the Riverside Community College District and part of this distinction is due to the support the institution has received from the Distribution Management Association (DMA).

The local DMA chapter has partnered with the RCCD Foundation and Norco College since 2005. DMA first established a scholarship to support the Norco College logistics program, and in 2010 contributed to the Bernard C. Osher Scholarship Initiative, which further increased support for NC students. DMA also purchased logistics textbooks to have available for students unable to afford the purchase. In addition to financial support, DMA members are involved at Norco College, serving on the President's Advisory Group and the Logistics Program Advisory Group.

DMA is a non-profit professional organization in Southern California serving professionals in the logistics and supply chain fields. The organization provides members with information regarding new legislation and advancements in logistics and supply chain technology.
