

BELIZE 2023

RCC FIELD ECOLOGY AND GEOLOGY COURSE IN BELIZE

JULY 10 - 21, 2023

HIGHLIGHTS

- Monitor manatees and explore mangrove forests
- Learn about the geologic history of Central America and the impact this region has had on ocean circulation, climate, and life around the world
- Snorkeling expedition to assess coral reef biodiversity
- Compare features of modern and ancient coastlines
- Neotropical bat, reptile, and amphibian surveys in the rainforest

EARN CREDIT FOR GEO-32 (2 UNITS) AND BIO-31B (2 UNITS)

COST: $4995 INCLUDES:

- Airfare and land transportation
- Accommodations and meals
- Professional, first-aid trained staff

Does not include:

- Transportation to/from LAX
- RCC tuition ($46/unit)
- Travel insurance ($19)

SCHOLARSHIPS, FUNDRAISING, AND FINANCIAL AID AVAILABLE

CONTACT:

Dr. Tonya Huff (tonya.huff@rcc.edu)

Dr. Aaron Sappenfield (aaron.sappenfield@rcc.edu)

INFO SESSIONS:

- Tuesdays Aug. 23 and Sept. 6, 1 - 2 pm, MTSC 233
- Thursdays Sept. 1 and Sept. 15, 12 - 1 pm, MTSC 232
- Fridays Sept. 9 and Sept. 23, 1 - 2 pm, MTSC 233

All of the above sessions will also be available via Zoom

Contact Dr. Huff or Dr. Sappenfield for Zoom links

ECOLOGY PROJECT
INTERNATIONAL